Senior Citizens' Conflict Basis For $100,000 Suit

A "senior citizen's suit for record, had been involved in $100,000 has been filed in the Superior Court of San Diego by a senior citizen male in La Mesa Sept. 13, following a City Council hearing on a feud centering around two elderly factions using La Mesa's recreational facilities.

Mrs. Elmer Umstead, of 2637 Nida Pl., Lemon Grove, charged in her suit that Nat H. Norman, of La Mesa had "assaulted and battered" her without provocation.

She charges through her attorney Kenneth Barwick of Davies, Barwick and Knowlton, that Norman struck her on the thigh outside La Mesa City Hall at approximately 10:15 p.m. following a council hearing which culminated a months-long hassle between two elderly groups embattled over the use of the Senior Citizens Clubhouse at La Mesa Blvd. and the University Ave. in La Mesa.

Council had ordered fighting between the two elderly factions to cease and threatened to impound furniture in the clubhouse unless hostilities were ended.

Norman, according to the L.G. Moose Books Three Events

Bail Refused Assessor John Cox

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Former Chief Deputy County Assessor John C. Cox was ordered to state prison Monday by Superior Court Judge Verne O. Warner who refused to allow Cox and his two co-defendants to remain on bail pending an appeal.

Cox, 45, of National City, lost house at La Mesa Blvd. and his usually jaunty air after the sentence and broke into tears. He faces one to 14 years in prison as the judge set five felonies to cease and threatened to impound furniture in the clubhouse unless hostilities were ended.

Homer Goehler, 77, Portland, Oregon, and Ralph Yeo, 68, San Mateo, both tax attorneys, face from one to three years in prison for the obstruction of justice conspiracy charge, the only one filed against them.

The arguments for a new trial, the probation hearings and argument for bail pending appeal lasted into the afternoon. Judge Warner ruled against the defendants on all counts.

Thomas Whelan, attorney for Cox, said he intended to take the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, if necessary. Ned Kimball, attorney for Goehler, said a prison sentence could be a death warrant for his aged client. He said Goehler is not in good health and has been tested recently for diabetes although the results of the tests are not known. Deputy District Attorney Robert Thomas said of Cox, "Every day many reports from state prison come across my desk. They tell of young men who have stolen cars or written bad checks. Compared to what Cox has done, they look like traffic cases. They don't have the benefit of his education," he said.

Car Makers Must Repent

There is a persistent rumor that a major auto manufacturer has been experimenting with an all electric auto that gives all the performances of a gasoline vehicle, except smog.

This development opens the byways for some mighty heady thinking since it would revolutionize the manufacturing industry but it would also blitz out the gasoline pumping stations and repair garages in the manner the garage once did as it replaced the stable. Garage and station operators will get little sympathy from manufacturers, I suspect.

The auto industry has long been noted for its penuriousness. As a result of its failure to provide proper safety features, the President was able to make political hay earlier this month when he signed into law two auto safety bills setting manufacturing safety standards that become mandatory in 1968 models.

You'd think the manufacturers would have sense enough to want to keep autoists alive so they could buy more new cars. Making a car safer doesn't detract one wrinkle from a smash-up. Safe cars will wreck as easily but metal elements will be made less lethal.

In spite of Presidential intervention it's a little late for manufacturers to completely repair their image. How can they expect to appear virtuous? They not only failed to provide their own safety standards, a sin in itself, but they didn't even provide inexpensive devices that would make driving less unpleasant and expensive.

For example: a 50 cent cross over joint in the car's hydraulic brake system that equalizes the "bite" of the tires on the ground, regardless of whether one side is on gravel and the other side on concrete.

There's a $3 device that meters fuel so that a car can maintain constant speed on trips.

For less than a dollar they could install thin wire antennas from cars' roofs, complete with lead-in to the dash. Many car owners replace fender types about once a year because of vandalism. Roof top ones would not be such an attractive nuisance for vandals.

All of this is an indictment against an industry that knows it could perform better.

When the all electric auto becomes standard, it will have added to its growing list of malcontents the owners and operators of filling stations and repair garages. These will die out as the stables did. And they will get precious little sympathy or help from the manufacturers! There will be regenerating centers and repair stations to take the place of the ones that will die out as the gasoline cars slowly become outmoded, but these will be operated by a new breed of technicians in white uniforms using electronic guages.

With the coming of the electric car and entirely new engineering, manufacturers will have an opportunity to repair their image somewhat. They could consider the life, limb and comfort of the car user and the establishment be damned.

This then is a fervent plea for auto makers to adopt such a philosophy.

Courts Oppose Your Right To Know

Gladwin Hill, the noted New York Times newsman, gave a blast to the court system Friday night when he addressed members of the San Diego Chapter of the professional journalistic society, Sigma Delta Chi.

Hill, who is west coast news director for the "gray, old lady," told more than 50 newsmen that newspapers have stood idly by while judges and lawyers aided in restricting the proper flow of news by demanding proper rights for the defendants.

Ground Broken For 'Biggest' Ford Showroom

Ground was broken Monday in La Mesa for what will be the largest Ford showrooms in the county.

Drew Motors, in a ceremony that involved dignitaries of the area, including the Mayor of the City of La Mesa, turned the first shovelfull of earth at the intersection of La Mesa Blvd. and Highway 80. The new huge facility will replace the two present Drew quarters — the new car showrooms at 8384 La Mesa Blvd. and the used car salerooms at 8619 La Mesa Blvd.

The new facility will cost a million dollars when it is occupied at the end of the year, Drew said.

It will have a 100 ft. rotunda-type show room with a capacity of 12 new cars. It will be the first design of its type in Southern California, it was said.

The building will also house the service and used car departments of the firm.

Elmer Drew is president of the firm. His associate is his son Joe.

The Drew firm has been in the same location in La Mesa for 39 years and is said to be the second largest in point of sales.

James Hurley developed the plans for the million dollar establishment, and Carson Construction Co. is the builder.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

Here's a new way to learn Spanish. Reading time is but a few minutes. Then dial 276-2762 and get the exact pronunciation. There are no books to buy or other costs. It is not only free but it is fun. Start learning Spanish today. A new lesson will appear in these columns every week.

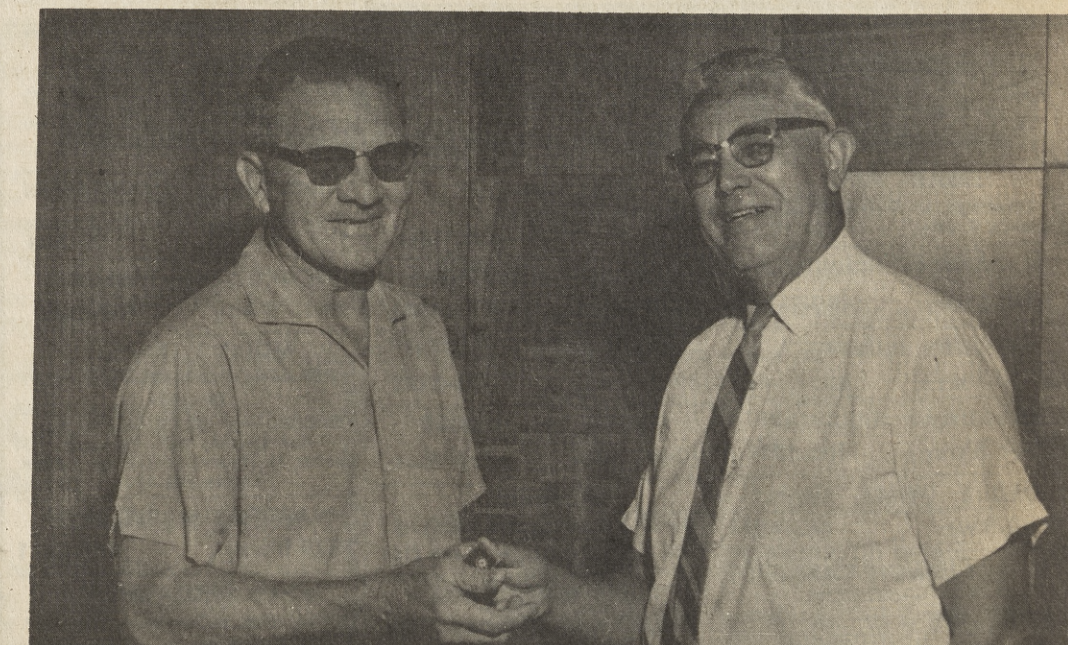

When Hernan Cortes came to earlier Spanish California. "El Camino Real" (The True Road), Spanish language with him. Through him, Spanish became known as the language of the conquistadors. It took several years for the natives of the American continent to learn this new and strange language of the white man.

Many decades after the Cortes era, the Spanish American frontier was expanded to include what is now California. Father Junipero Serra, having been trained in Mexico City, brought the Spanish language and culture to San Diego. Spanish words like "Presidio" (fortress) "Mision" (mission), and "Padre" (father) became commonplace in Southern California.

Even streets and roads in this area show the influence of the

With the tradition and heritage so deeply entrenched, it is of little wonder that the people of the area take a great interest in the Spanish language. Hardison's Spanish is designed to encourage, in part, this interest by offering six common expressions for our readers to learn.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Jesus came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and went to synagogue on the Sabbath day as he regularly did. (Luke 4:16, NEB)

Why do so many people attend church regularly? I believe it is to hear what God has to say to them. On entering church, we breathe the word Father and listen to His voice.

Church attendance affords a special opportunity for us to thank God for His mercies, to ask for grace, and to gain help in fighting life's battles.

Charles H. Spurgeon, noted English Baptist preacher of the nineteenth century, once visited a man who had quit attending church. Nothing that was said persuaded him to resume attendance. Finally, Spurgeon took the tongs and lifted a live coal from the fire. The man sat in silence as they watched the coal lose its glow and become a black cinder. The man saw the point and promised to be back in his place in the church.

We should prize the blessing derived from fellowship with other believers in a church service.

Prayer: O God, we welcome opportunities to worship in Thy house, for we know Thou art there. May a sense of Thy presence strengthen the faith and gladden the souls of our fellow worshippers and ourselves. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought for the day: What are my main reasons for attending church?

Reality Is Subject

"Reality" is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

The ways in which spiritual reality is revealed will be studied in several Bible passages, including these verses from Exodus and Galatians: "Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared... We through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith."

A corresponding passage from the demonological textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, gives this definition of angels: "God's thoughts passing to man; spiritual intuitions, pure and perfect; the inspiration of goodness, purity, and immortality, counteracting all evil, sensuality, and mortality."

"LORD, teach us to pray." In a sense it may truly be said that any offering to God is prayer. Public worship, devotional reading, charitable deeds, work for a worthy cause, all or any of these may partake the quality of prayer if they are made an offering to God. But there is a very large if in that statement.

Harvest Ball Is Saturday

The 13th Annual Harvest Ball sponsored by the Grossmont Hospital Women's Auxiliary will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hotel del Coronado.

Forty-two Junior Auxiliary members will be presented at this time for "community service." These "presentees" have earned this honor by fulfilling specified requirements.

The girls are indoctrinated in January of their sophomore year and must serve a required number of hours continued service before being eligible for presentation in their senior year of high school. The program originated in 1954 with a class of 15 presentees and has grown to this year's largest class of 42.

Mothers of presentees must also fulfill requirements in service hours and term of membership in the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Howard Mueller is Junior Director assisted by Mrs. Gordon Shields and Mrs. Vincent Gann, Jr., co-directors.

The presentation ceremony will begin promptly at 9 p.m. Mrs. Gordon Shields, presentee chairman, and Mrs. Don A. Smith, Harvest Ball chairman, will greet members and guests.

Dressed in traditional long, white formal gowns the presentees will be introduced individually by Leverett F. Bristol, Grossmont Hospital Administrator, as they step through the rose-decorated picture frame onto the ballroom stage. Mrs. Cyril Campbell, Auxiliary president, will present each girl with a long stemmed rose, the Auxiliary symbol of service.

The presentees will be met at the steps of the stage and escorted around the ballroom by their fathers. After all the girls have been presented they will return to the ballroom and dance the first dance with their fathers. Paul Ravino will provide music for dancing.

One-half the proceeds from the Harvest Ball will go to the Junior Scholarship program. Scholarship funds go to Juniors who are pursuing studies leading to hospital or health-oriented careers.

Over 200 Performances Slated For Old Globe's 30th Season

Ten different productions presenting more than 200 performances will highlight the year-long thirtieth anniversary season of the Old Globe Theatre.

Two different theatres in Balboa Park are utilized for productions. The first play opens Oct. 4 and the final production closes May 14, 1967.

The Old Globe Theatre main stage seats 400 persons. The Arena in Falstaff Tavern, located adjacent to the Old Globe in Balboa Park, seats 200 persons. Performances in both theatres are nightly except Monday.

The fall season opens with the first San Diego production of "A Case of Libel."

The Henry Denker courtroom drama is based on the controversy between famed war correspondent Quentin Reynolds and newspaper columnist Westbrook Pegler. The play is based on a portion of the best-selling book "My Life in Court" by Louis Nizer.

Producing director Craig Noel is staging "A Case of Libel" on the Old Globe Theatre main stage. Twenty-five performers are scheduled.

A dramatization of Edgar Lee Masters' American classic "Spoon River Anthology" is the first season production in the Arena in Falstaff Tavern.

A cast of six will weave a spell of Americana as the romances, achievements, disappointments and tragedies of a small mid-western town citizens are recreated. The production, directed by associate director William Roesch, will be staged for sixteen performances in the theatre-in-the-round.

The 1965 Pulitzer Prize drama "The Subject Was Roses" is the second attraction on the Old Globe Theatre main stage. The family drama depicts the relationship between a young man, recently discharged from the army and his parents. Twenty-five performances are scheduled beginning Nov. 15 on the main stage.

Beginning Jan. 10, 1967, is the romantic comedy "Any Wednesday." One of the most recent big hits on Broadway, the Muriel Resnik comedy revolves around a business tycoon who deducts his girl friend's rent as a business expense.

One of the all-time favorites in American comedy theatre opens a four week run Feb. 21. George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart's "You Can't Take It With You" will be performed on the main stage through Feb. 5, as a loveable family expresses their independence against the regimen of society.

The final production of the thirtieth main stage season is "The Owl and the Pussycat." The Bill Manhoff comedy, opening April 4 and continuing through April 30, is a battle of wits and romance between a girl and the man who had her evicted from her apartment.

Following "Spoon River Anthology" at the Old Globe Arena in Falstaff Tavern, is "The Birthday Party." The modern play, by England's Harold Pinter, is a menacing drama of suspense. Sixteen performances are scheduled Nov. 24.

Red cedar is used in pencils.

High Total Reached In Juvenile Traffic

The San Diego County Juvenile Court, Traffic Division climaxed a busy summer by receiving 2,452 citations during August, the second highest monthly total in its history, according to George W. Ingersoll, Chief of Juvenile Traffic.

Pedestrian and bicycle citations constituted only about one-fourth of the total, a smaller portion than the customary one-third. A sizeable number of the vehicle violations involved small foreign-made motorcycles which are rapidly increasing in popularity with both adults and juveniles. "Some parents who feel their youngsters are too young to own or drive cars let them buy and operate these motorcycles, which for several reasons, may be even more dangerous."

Citations were received from enforcement agencies as follows: San Diego — 1598; Coronado — 10; El Cajon — 83; Chula Vista — 56; CHP North — 130; CHP South — 188; Oceanside — 65; Escondido — 52; Sheriff — 74; La Mesa — 50; Carlsbad — 40; and other jurisdictions — 25.

Actions taken included 423 license suspensions, 224 assessments totaling $2,396, 143 license restrictions, 78 assignments to traffic school, and 86 referrals to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

"It is anticipated that September will be a slower month because youngsters will be returning to school. Also, this means that motorists should be particularly careful and the Juvenile Traffic Court is cooperating with other agencies and organizations concerned with traffic safety in emphasizing the necessity of being especially alert for school children," said Charles T. G. Rogers, chief probation officer.

IRS Changes Schedule On WH Tax Payments

The District Director of Internal Revenue said this week that many employers having large payrolls are overlooking new regulations relating to payment of withholding taxes.

Effective June 1966, employers subject to withholding tax who have withheld more than $4,000 during any one month are required to make special deposits on a semi-monthly basis, Riddell reminded.

"The special deposits must be made within three banking days after the close of the semi-monthly period," Riddell said. "Failure to make these deposits timely may subject the employer to penalties provided by law."

The IRS Chief suggested that employers contact any one of 26 local Internal Revenue offices in Southern California for more information and answers to their questions.

Small Business Administration Lifts Ceilings

The Small Business Administration raised its ceiling on direct loans to $100,000 and on participation loans to $150,000. The ceiling on guaranteed loans remains at the stationary limit of $350,000.

The higher ceilings should help small businessmen during this period of tight money, according to SBA.

The former ceilings were $50,000 on direct loans and $100,000 on participation loans. The increases are effective from the first of September.

Direct loans are those made by the Agency to eligible small businessmen who cannot obtain financial assistance from commercial institutions at reasonable terms or on a guaranteed or participation basis.

Participation loans are those in which SBA shares with the bank. A guaranteed loan is one made by a bank with an SBA guaranty of up to 90 percent or $350,000, whichever is less.

"When the moratorium on Government small business loans was lifted last May, the ceilings imposed then were designed to keep SBA lending within budgeted levels, a spokesman said.

"SBA has had to turn away some prospective borrowers because their requirements exceeded our previous limits.

"We now can accommodate many of these small businessmen, who have been pinched for funds during this period of unprecedented business activity coupled with extremely tight credit, he added.

Regional office for San Diego and Imperial Counties is located at 110 West "C" St., San Diego. John W. Quimby is Regional Director.

The DIMMER VIEW

"Defendants' rights are not paramount," said Mr. Hill. Courts and the Bar are mistaken in assuming that a fair trial is possible in secrecy.

"It is the public's rights which are being abrogated! Courts are the business of the public and court functionaries are servants of the people!"

"Specious argument is given that defendants are put on 'a stage' when news cameras are introduced into court. It's not so. It is better for cameras to be present than an arena of people.

"The public cannot satisfy its interest in its courts by attending trials. Courtrooms are not adequate to house the audience that would show up if people could stop their daily chores to attend trials in person.

"Yet, they want to know and they are entitled to know."

Hill's presentation was on solid ground. The Bar and the Judiciary have become more obsessed in recent years with the belief that citizens have built court buildings and pay wages for court personnel, including the wages of the judge, that court business can be conducted in private when it pleases the court. Lawyers have concurred in this for several reasons, one reason being that it pleases the court.

The press in general, and Sigma Delta Chi in particular, has begun to fight back.

J. A. Kugelmass, of the San Jose Register, in an article in the United Press International Reporter, took a look at one of the court's major functions — the jury.

"The American jury system," he said, "is considered so sacrosanct that no one bothers to inquire into its fallibility, its foibles and weakness. And yet there is hardly a survey made of the jury and the jury system and the methods whereby jurors are selected but that does not slam away harshly at the composition of the 12 men and ladies, good and true. Most surveys made by bar associations evidence, are neither good nor true. Most consist of cranky old meddlers living off pensions who enjoy a day in court and thereby earn an additional emolument. The better variety of juror invariably seeks to be excused and usually exercises enough influence to obtain his release . . .

"The Supreme Court in the Sheppard case might well have rapped the jury across its collective knuckles for having heeded the press in the first place. If the press put on a parade and a circus, then the jury consisted of delighted spectators.

"If jurors are so febrile and plastic that they can be impelled to send a man up for life or hie him to the gallows because of the exercise of colorful writing and pungent verbs, then the jury system should be scrapped.

The press is not at fault one whit. To pillory the press when the jury should be placed on the rack is an absurdity."

The Price of Fame

The price of fame comes high these days. Premier Nguyen Ky of South Viet Nam is scheduled to speak here in November to members of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

One of the wheels of the newspaper world who is co-chairman of the event said this week that he is worried about whether Premier Ky will show up for the meeting.

"Do you think he might be too busy to keep his engagement?", we asked.

Not if we can keep him alive," was the macabre reply.

WHAT'S DOING?

"MY TELEPHONE NUMBER IS . . ."

Where is my telephone number . . . really! The truth is, it's part of special equipment in the nearby telephone building that houses local dial equipment and linked to your telephones by a 'line equipment' from the dial building to your home or office.

There are 48,000 main telephone numbers located in the dial office at 4711 Spring Street in La Mesa, serving La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

Keeping track of all these numbers is the job of our Ann Dietricher, pictured right. She helps assign new numbers, arranges for the intercepting of calls to former working numbers so telephone subscribers can be called at their new number in another city or town, and generally keeps the telephone number inventories up to date.

Another member of the Dial Service Team is Marjorie Lanning. She keeps an eye on the dial equipment that serves your line and telephone number, to be sure there's enough call carrying capacity so that you won't have to wait too long for dial tone when you're making a call, and so that paths to your number don't get so busy that calls to you get blocked unnecessarily.

She gathers information on traffic volumes flowing through the switching equipment and, if calls begin bunching up in certain points, helps arrange new paths or more equipment to relieve the pressure so your outgoing and incoming calls flow smoothly.

Of course, there are many more people on the telephone team who are concerned about you getting the best telephone service available. But these girls work very closely with your telephone number, which is, after all, the beginning and end of the dial service system which links America into one big party line.

MV Thinmen At Home Friday

Monte Vista High's defending Grossmont League and CIF-San Diego Section cross country champions will open their 1966 campaign Friday in a three-way meet with San Diego and Sweetwater High.

Coach Bob Larsen's Monarchs will face the two opponents at 3 p.m. on the Monte Vista course.

Returning for Larsen are four all-Grossmont League athletes — Don Olsen, Rodney Stephens, Dave Matheny and Danny Unglicht. The senior foursome propelled Monte Vista to an undefeated season last year.

Top prospects for the varsity include seniors Duane Camp and Brent Wilson, juniors Dale Olsen, Larry Skeels, Mark Clark, Kim Van Wagner and Danny Matheny and sophomores David Hanna, David Carter and Ray Santos.

The Monte Vista junior varsity and freshman harrier teams were also undefeated last year.

Chargers Visit Oakland

Chapter Three in the adventures of Sir Sidney, Knight Lance and the Chargers of San Diego unfolds Sunday in the lavish new den of the Oakland Raiders.

Victorious over Buffalo, 27-7, and Boston, 24-0, the Chargers welcomed a bye last weekend to mend many wounds and prepare for the joust with the arch-rival Raiders from Northern California.

Battlefield Sunday is the Oakland-Alameda Coliseum, a sparkling 53,000-seat facility surpassed in the nation only by plans for the new San Diego Stadium to be ready in 1967.

The 1:30 p.m. game will be televised in San Diego by KOGO

(10) and broadcast by KFMB and the Charger network.

Although the Chargers will not have to contend with the harrowing proximity of the old Frank Youell Field faithful, they will smack into an aroused Oakland eleven. The Raiders (12) have lost two in a row and had their new home debut spoiled by powerful Kansas City, 32-10 last Sunday.

The game will be the first for San Diego against a Western Division foe and a barometer for Charger hopes of capturing a fourth successive Western title. Oakland and Kansas City both beat San Diego in pre-season games with the Raiders winning, 14-7, at San Diego.

Potluck Table Set For Golden PTA

The Golden Avenue School PTA is holding its first meeting this week on Thursday with its annual Pot Luck dinner.

Honor guard at the event will be Civil Air Patrol Squadron 55. Introduction of teachers and discussion of the Halloween carnival and the newly organized program of Saturday moves for youngsters will be discussed briefly following the dinner.

Mmes. Frank Hughes, Donald Schaffer and Leonard Hansell are assisting kindergarten mothers in preparing the dinner.

Child care is being provided.

SAN DIEGO DRAGWAY — Travis and Sons-Killalea Racing Team with Larry Reed as driver has earned recognition as San Diego Dragway in Ramona as the best top eliminator fueler in eight of the last 10 tries. The racing team operates out of Lemon Grove. Here, Lemon Grove's "Superstition" (front) prepares to thunder off the line at the Ramona track.

No Predictions In Store For GJC Cross Country

Grossmont College cross country coach Ron Vavra is one mentor who doesn't like to make predictions.

"They have a habit of back-firing on you," cites Vavra. "Two years ago I predicted we would win the state championship and we fell flat on our faces at the end of the year."

Last season Vavra played cat and mouse with the press and his team toyed with its opponents, winning every major junior college cross country title in the state including the California JC Championships.

Only two lettermen returned from the 1965 champions. They are Erich Russell and Verne Wilkinson, second and fifth place men on the team roster last year.

Russell prepped at Helix High while Wilkinson saw duty at Mount Miguel High in Spring Valley.

Bill Lawson, an outstanding freshman from El Cajon High, heads the list of prospects for 1966.

Others Vavra will be looking toward for team strength are Steve Bickley of Mount Miguel, Fred Loegel of Morse, Tom Jones of El Cajon, Jim Schacht of Grossmont and Charles Winsor of El Capitan.

Vavra figures Palomar, Mesa and Southwestern will be his three toughest Pacific Southwest Conference foes.

Naturally, Vavra isn't making any predictions concerning his team's forecast, but does admit "we'll give them all a pretty good battle."

The first indication of success of this year's harriers will come Saturday when the Griffins travel to Long Beach to defend their Long Beach Invitational title.

The first PSC meet will be Oct. 7 against Mesa College on the Griffin course.

Super Stocks Race Saturday Night

The Super Stocks will hold the spotlight at Cajon Speedway this weekend as the El Cajon track begins its fall racing season. High School football games will occupy the Speedway on Friday nights with racing limited to Saturday evenings.

This Saturday's program will feature competition between the top pointsmen, Vance Butler of El Cajon and Russ Bullen of San Diego.

Bullen has failed to place in his last three starts, losing the number one spot in point standings to Butler.

Others to contend with will be Lemon Grove's Jim Hitt, Imperial Beach's Tex Kimbrell, Lakeside's Dick Guest, Bob Chambers of El Cajon and Bucky Peralta of El Cajon.

The Modified Sportsmen will race again Oct. 1.

Surfing Contest Set For Oct. 29

The Second Annual Menehune Surfing Contest will be held Oct. 29 at La Jolla Shores, according to Don Smidt, president of the junior division of the Windansea Surf Club, sponsoring organization.

The contest is open to all 12-year-and-under surfers.

There will be surfing divisions for 12-years-and-under and 10-years-and-under. Paddleboard competition will be open. Trophies will be awarded to the first six places in each surfing division and the first three places in paddling.

Co-chairmen of the contest are Mike Murphy and Dave Koppel, both of San Diego.

Applications may be obtained at most surf shops, at the Torrey Pines Inn, Windansea Sports Shop or by writing the Windansea Surf Club, 717 Kingston Ct., San Diego.

Matador Harriers To Begin Tuesday

Mount Miguel High School's 1966 cross country team will begin its season Tuesday with a 3 p.m. meet against Hilltop of the Metropolitan League.

The Matadors, a member of the Grossmont District League, will host the meet on their home course.

Ducks Unlimited Plan Gala Affair

Plans are now well underway for the 23rd annual San Diego Ducks Unlimited fund-raising party, which will be held Oct. 6 at Hotel Coronado, according to George Cowan of Lakeside, chairman of the 1966 45-man steering committee.

Tickets are available at $17.50 from any DU committeeman, or they may be reserved through local sporting goods stores or any Fox West Coast Theater.

Net proceeds from the annual San Diego DU parties, hailed as one of the city's top social events, are sent to national headquarters in Chicago for waterfowl restoration work on the Canadian prairies, where most North American ducks rear their young.

Last year's party, one of the largest of its kind in the country, was attended by more than 900 sportsmen and their wives netting Ducks Unlimited over $12,000. All DU parties are open to the public, whether duck hunters or not.

Bowling For Better Scores

By Evelyn Teal. . . . . 1964-65 All American Team

Completion of the Four Step Delivery
6th of Seven Articles

When you "release" the ball on the lane you should keep your bowling arm coming straight upward. Your arm should come up at least to shoulder level, but if you wish to go higher, it is permissible. Remember to keep your arm in the same arc throughout the swing. I caution you not to pull your arm across your body to the left as you release the ball. In addition, you should not stop your hand action or "jerk" your hand back as you release the ball.

If you stop your hand action at the point of release, the ball will lose its striking power when it hits the pins because it is no longer rotating but is skidding. Star bowlers call this a "flat" ball. Therefore, remember to keep your arm coming straight up after you have released the ball. Once this smooth follow-through has been perfected, you will find that the directional line and the hitting of the target will be more consistent, which means better scoring.

It would like to stress that when your bowling ball is released, it is rolled down the lane and NOT "thrown." The ball must be "lifted" over the foul line (not on or before). To aid in lifting your ball over the foul line, I recommend that you reach out for your spot or target on the lane, keeping in mind that during the entire pendulum swing, your arm is held close to your body. At the point of release, the thumb always comes out of the ball first—the fingers remaining momentarily to impart the roll to give your ball an effective roll.

Politics In Brief

SPENCER WILLIAMS

Spencer Williams, GOP nominee for Attorney General, vigorously defended Ronald Reagan's contentions regarding FBI criminal statistics in pointing out the seriousness of California's crime problem. "Brown appointee, Richard McGee is doing a great disservice to law enforcement when he belittles the accuracy of FBI crime reports in a desperate effort to distract the people's attention from the administration's pathetic record in law enforcement," Williams said.

"I am alarmed," stated Williams, "that an otherwise responsible public official, also interested in greater law enforcement, would add his voice to this group of FBI detractors, for the sole purpose of trying to conceal the many shortcomings of the Brown-Lynch administration in the area of law enforcement."

"Our own State Department of Justice figures show that the number of major crimes per 100,000 persons has gone up 148% under the indifferent administration of the Brown-Mosk-Lynch regime," said Williams. Williams asserted that although minor discrepancies are bound to develop in any system which compiles reports from over 8,000 separate agencies representing 92% of the nation's population, that the FBI has established excellent reporting standards and carefully audits all reports to establish maximum reliability.

"Such minor deficiencies cannot be used to explain away major facts; for example: the FBI reports show that while California's population exceeds New York's by 34%, our crime exceeds New York's by 70%. The administration has not been above using FBI reports itself when it seemed to favor California — namely to show that our percentage increase in crimes of violence was less than that in other enumerated states," Williams said.

"It is high time," Williams charged, "that the administration leveled with the people of California rather than trying to confuse them with twisted statistics."

CONGRESSMAN UTT

Congressman James B. Utt joined fellow Congressmen this week in introducing a resolution reprimanding the Food and Drug Administration's move to circumvent Congressional responsibility and authority.

Utt said FDA regulatory powers were not intended to include taking common vitamins and health foods off store shelves. FDA, a part of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has proposed controls and regulations of diet foods and diet supplement labeling and packaging a policy that could eliminate access except by doctor's prescription.

The veteran California lawmaker said such a regulation is a policy matter to be decided by Congress. FDA was created as an investigation body to advise the President and Congress on matters pertaining to the nation's health. Protective laws must come from Congress, not the FDA, Utt said.

JOHN NAGY

John Nagy, president of State-wide Homeowners Association commended John Knox, Assemblyman, for his attack on Fred Wanaka, Contra Costa County Assessor, for assessing speculative land far below the County-Wide Ratio.

In a letter to Knox, he said, "You are to be commended for attacking what seems to have been a 'sacred cow' until now." Nagy sent Knox a preliminary report of a survey of land sales in San Diego County for the month of June 1966, which showed assessments as low as 1.7% of selling price, and stated the survey will continue for a year.

SEN. THOMAS KUCHEL

Stronger Federal election controls to prevent attempted duping of voters were proposed by U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California as an aftermath of widely-criticized tactics during recent primary campaigns in his State.

Kuchel, the Senate Assistant Republican Leader, introduced a bill to tighten requirements of Section 612, Title 18, of the Federal Code relating to publication or distribution of political statements. The controls are designed especially to apply to the preparation and circulation of facsimile ballots.

In remarks on the Senate

floor, the Senior California Senator declared that "thousands of privately printed, propaganda ballots were used in a contemptible effort to mislead my fellow Californians in casting their primary votes."

Kuchel noted the "fraudulent" facsimiles, which he also condemned as "spurious", were deliberately arranged to appear official and pre-checked so as to deceive recipients into believing that designated individuals had the support of the "official" party groups.

"The voter has the right to know what is, in fact, campaign advertising and what is not," Kuchel asserted. "The very thought that votes induced by fraud and deceit may control an election compels the necessity for legislative action."

The Kuchel measure would require specifically identification of the responsible person or group preparing or distributing such "literature", in the form of a "Notice to Voters", and thus impose penalties on attempts to give the impression such material is official.

LESLIE GEHRES

Radm. Leslie E. Gehres, USN (ret.), chairman of the San Diego County Republican Central Committee, today made the following statement in response to inquiries about Ronald Reagan's alleged statement that he would not endorse Senator Thomas Kuchel in 1968.

"I listened carefully to the televised interview in which Mr. Reagan is alleged to have made this statement and to which Mr. George Christopher has taken such violent exception. It is apparent the wire services and subsequent news reports of this interview omitted some key words which substantially altered the meaning of Mr. Reagan's statement."

I heard him say that, if he should be Governor in 1968, he would consider it highly improper for him to intervene in any way in a primary election. He unequivocally stated that he would, in 1968 as he has in the past, support all those who emerged from the primaries as the Republican nominees, 'top to bottom'.

This is the only proper position for a Governor, or candidate for Governor, to take. The California Election Laws prohibit official Party organizations from making any pre-primary endorsements. Certainly a Governor or any other elected incumbent should be guided by this code provision even though it may not be technically legal binding on him. Our State Chairman, Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, emphatically endorses this non-pre-primary endorsement concept, as do I as County Chairman. Every candidate in a Party primary, incumbent or non-incumbent, is entitled to the same fair and neutral consideration and treatment by those in official position in the Party, or in elective office."

ASSEMBLYMAN CONRAD

"Governor Brown recently called on the American film industry to expand their production in California. He was quoted as saying: 'I am disturbed that American productions are declining while foreign productions are increasing'."

"Apparently Governor Brown hopes the people employed in the film industry have forgotten his veto of a bill to end the discriminatory assessment which encourage producers to ship millions of feet of film out of the state and curtail production as the tax assessment deters," said Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, 57th District.

RICHARD NEVINS

Richard Nevins, Southern California Member of the State Board of Equalization, asked California's voters to turn down a second attempt to shift the property taxes of the wealthy rural landlords to the homeowners and the businessman. Speaking before the Los Angeles Downtown Lions Club, Nevins said that in 1962 the electorate defeated Proposition No. 4, assessment of agricultural lands. This November the electorate should do the same to Proposition No. 3, an almost identical ballot measure.

"This property tax shift scheme for a favored few speculators, under the guise of open space conservation, establishes a tax shelter for large land holdings. Proposition 3 would amend a tax loophole into the State tax treatment to oil and minerals underlying so-called 'open space land'. This part of the measure was an 'oversight in 1962' but couldn't be called that now", Nevins said.

Constitution giving special low

Farmers currently have tax relief under the California Land Conservation Act of 1965, so passage of Proposition 3 cannot be classified as saving farm lands.

"Special treatment for a few is a bad tax policy. Property taxation at present is geared to equalized assessment of all properties. If special groups are exempted, the basic plan will have been scuttled. Proposition 3 would benefit the speculators 'green space lovers'. Let's not be tricked into letting land speculators, oil interests and industrial plants force you to pay their taxes while allegedly conserving open space land", Nevins concluded.

Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson, Felix J. Weil, Secretary of Property Taxpayers' Council, and Nevins wrote the opposition arguments for the ballot.

Meeting in the Music Room at the Biltmore Hotel, Nevins was introduced by program chairman, Hyman Bindman.

PAUL WARD

Administrator Paul D. Ward has accused Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, Ronald Reagan's Republican chairman, of "handing out the same old 'Reaganisms' in a desperate bid to save an election he knows he is losing."

Ward attacked Parkinson's statements in the so-called Republican Whitepaper" on welfare which was issued this week.

"This is typical of the entire approach of the current Parkinson Reagan campaign. Development to said Parkinson's residence or place of business is specified as: C/O Hov, Adams & Muhleman, Attorneys at Law, 543 Spreckels Building, San Diego, California. Within six months after the first publication of this notice."

Bert Betts summed up the tight money situation as it affects his responsibilities as California Treasurer, and found that the disadvantages outweighed the advantages.

Speaking before a Forum Night Dinner Monday of San Diego Chapter American Institute of Banking, Betts pointed to the 'money squeeze' as particularly disadvantageous to the California taxpayer, since it has resulted in a skyrocketing increase in interest costs on State and Municipal bonds, adding, however, "that despite this increase, California is still realizing a $40 million savings annually which resulted from the restoration of competitive bidding on bond sales in 1961."

Ironically, rising interest rates have assisted Betts in his other major responsibility, the investment of State funds, but "unfortunately, this doesn't balance out. Most of our investments are short-term, and our borrowing through bonds is long-term. The longer duration than the benefits we are now accruing on investments."

PAUL SUTHERLAND

Fifteen Republican Club members from the 77th Assembly District are hosting a rally for Paul Sutherland, Candidate for the State Assembly at 8 p.m. Monday, at the Hilltop Junior High School, 44 East 'J' Street, in Chula Vista.

The principal speaker will be Assemblyman Bob Monagan, Minority Floor Leader in the State Assembly. Monagan is well known for his budget reduction stand in the last special Session of the legislature, that caused it to be the longest in the history of the State.

Sponsoring clubs are forming car caravans to come to the rally from all over the District. Mrs. Bud Wilson is the chairman of the event. The public is invited.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Thank you very much for the front page writeup you gave to Steve and Debbie Dumond of the Spring Valley brother-and-sister dance team. It was a fine article.

The parents as well as all of us who know the children appreciate and enjoyed reading about youngsters. Also, I appreciate your showing me through the newspaper plant—it was a most interesting experience and the first time I had ever seen how newspapers are printed.

Sincerely,
